Dedication

LOVE KEEPS ITS OWN ETERNALLY

I cannot think of them as dead
  Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread
  They have but gone before.

The Father's house is mansioned fair
  Beyond my vision dim;
All souls are His, and here or there
  Are living unto Him.

And still their silent ministry
  Within my heart hath place,
As when on earth they walked with me
  And met me face to face.

Their lives are made forever mine;
  What they to me have been,
Hath left henceforth its seal and sign
  Engraven deep within.

Mine are they by an ownership
  Nor time nor death can free;
For God hath giv'n to Love to keep
  Its own eternally.

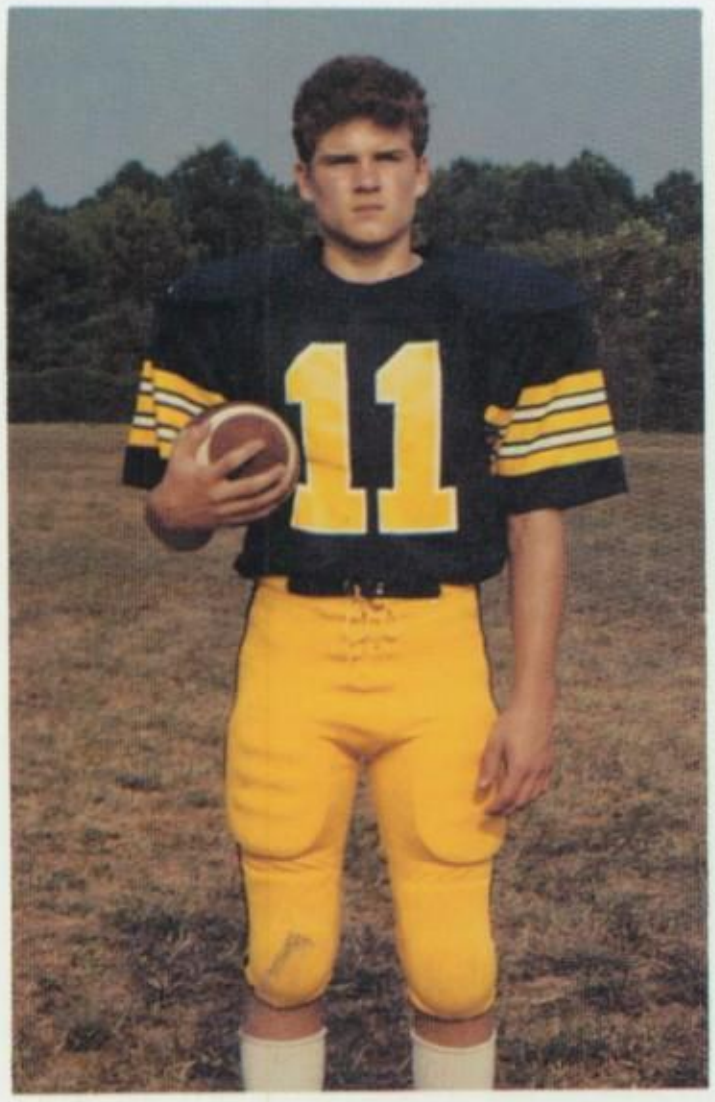
FREDERICK HOSMER

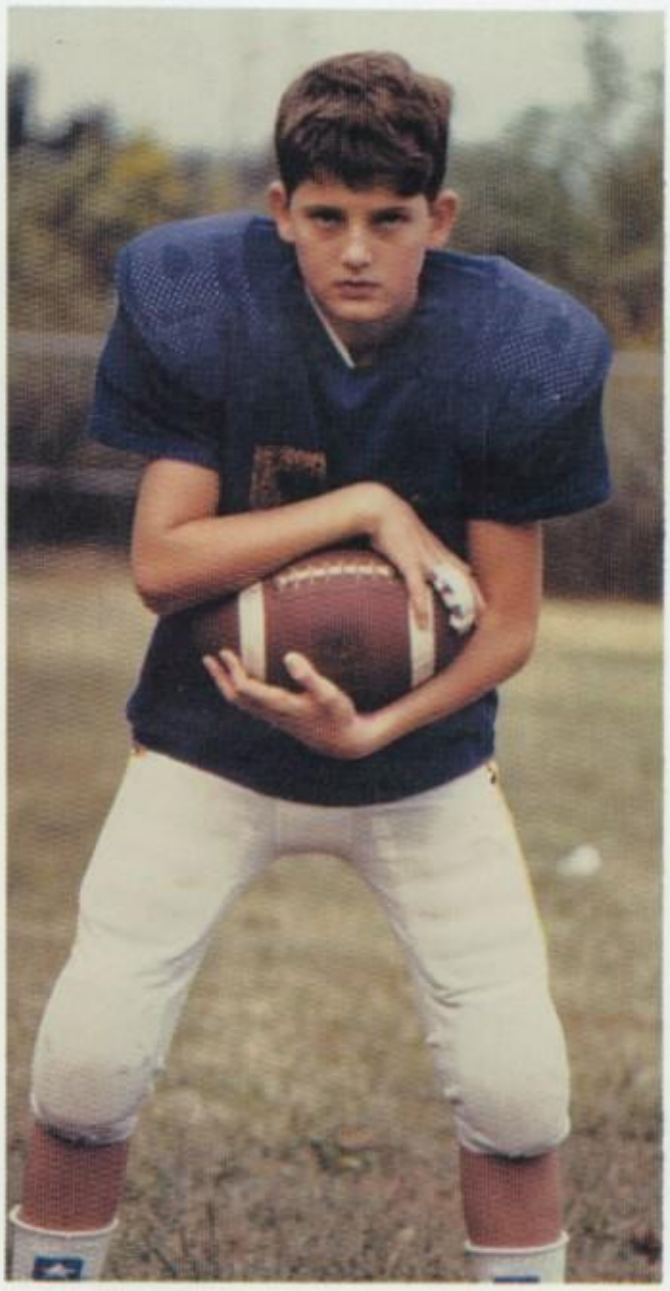
The 1987-88 Mighty Eagle is dedicated in memory of Marilyn Stamm and Scotty and Nicky Tester.

The Lord allows things to happen in our lives which are often not understood. Sometime we ask ourselves, "Why?" We each have to remember that it is all part of God's perfect plan.

Miss Stamm was a special friend to all of the students. We knew that she cared and would take time to listen to our problems. As a result of her love of teaching and for her students she gained our love and respect.

In Memorial





The memories that we hold of Scotty and Nicky Tester will not be easily forgotten. Their Christian testimony is an example to us and we love and respect them for it. Their lives and deaths have touched and changed us. The result of this physical loss is a spiritual gain.

This dedication is a token of our love and respect for these two who we will always remember with pride and a sense of loss.

Sumus Quid Sumus

We Are What We Are

We, the illustrious three members of Trigonometry class, leave to Mr. Allen our combination locks, our tardy excuses and of course, our medieval text books. P.S. "We're in the hall, Mr. Allen!!"

We, the scholarly class of 1988, upon the arrival of the dispensation of graduation, leave to next year's ambiguious Bible class the ability to delineate and succinct Mr. Presson's progressive revelation Biblical catechism.

We, the Senior typing class leave to next year's typing class, what's left of Mrs. Swiney's neverending patience.

To the class of 1991, the Senior History class leaves you 100 terms, 60 content questions, and 10 application questions. We expect you to ACE the test!!

We, the few Seniors of research class, leave Miss Coltrane a fresh book of hall passes and a new cassette tape.

To all of next year's computer classes we leave all of the computers since we can't take them with us anyway.

Ew, the Senior calss; exselling in all araes of Englishe, laeve our astoundding grammer, and speling abilities to nxet yaer's Junior calss,

To next year's Accounting class, we leave you a bottle of green-out and Mrs. Allen. Good Luck!!

To the student body and faculty, we all leave our support, appreciation, love and friendship. Thank you, the Class of '88!!

Sheets Prepares For Fall Festival

By VIKKI BROUGHTON
Staff Reporter

The Sheets Memorial Christian School Fall Festival will be held all-day Saturday, and it will include an auction, flea market, crafts sales, gospel singing performances and a barbecue dinner.

The proceeds from the annual event will be used to purchase athletic and band equipment for the school, according to Fred McClure, festival organizer for the Boosters Club.

The Foundations, Faithful Servants and Sounds of Joy will be performing gospel singing during the festival, which will last from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M. Some other local gospel groups are also expected to perform during the afternoon.

An auction of donated merchandise and gifts will be held at 4 P.M. McClure said the auction items include a cellular telephone, a weekend trip to Myrtle Beach, a weekend trip to a mountain chalet, furniture from local manufacturers, Bob Timberlake and Arnold Quesenberry prints, homemade quilts and several other items.

Although the festival will not begin until 11 A.M., a giant flea market will begin at 7 A.M. The Boosters Club members are selling booth space along Holt Street, which will be blocked off for the festival, for $10 for a 10-foot wide booth space.

In addition to raising funds through the auction, the Boosters Club will selling snacks and drinks at a concession stand and selling tickets for the all-you-can eat barbecue dinner, which will served from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M., with take-outs available.

Dinner tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children and can be bought in advance from the school or by calling McClure at 249-7081. Anyone wishing to reserve a booth space can also call the school or McClure.

Other activities at the fall festival include carnival games for small children in the school gym

USAir Completes Buyout

GREENSBORO (AP) — USAir Group has completed its buyout of Piedmont Aviation, clearing the way for the expected merger of three airlines into one next year.

USAir plans to bring Piedmont and another acquisition, Pacific Southwest Airlines, under the

USAir-Piedmont Officials Plan Whole New Airline

The Associated Press

USAir is trying out new logo designs as part of its plans to create a new airline from the foundations of Piedmont, USAir and Pacific Southwest Airlines, said Piedmont's chairman.

William McGee, the chairman, president and chief executive of Piedmont, said USAir Group tested a new logo and colors Monday to represent the merged airlines.

USAir will operate Piedmont as a separate subisidiary for at least nine months, while senior managers of the two carriers try to map out a merger that avoids the labor unrest and customer complaints that have ocurred among other companies in the airline industry, he said.

McGee said his role during the next year will be to work with Edwin Colodny, USAir's chairman, president and chief executive, to complete a merger that is fair to the communities Piedmont serves, the airline's 22,000 employees and its customers.

He also said USAir would continue adding flights at Charlotte-Douglas International Airport, saying departures could total 350 a day within three years.

Abandoning the Charlotte hub "would be the worst marketing decision in the world," McGee said. "And I can assure you that attitude doesn't prevail and has never been thought about."

"One of the major assets that USAir bought when it acquired Piedmont was the Charlotte hub," McGee said. "And the financial commitment to Charlotte in terms in maintenance facilities, in terms of additional gates and in terms of actual added terminal facilities is greater than any commitment over the Piedmont system, anywhere."

McGee said that he expects considerable help from Colodny, although the two companies have different operating styles, describing USAir as more conservative.

"The fact of life is that Mr. Colodny bought the company," said McGee. "But it's extremely important to understand that Ed Colodny needs to have the continued expertise of all the Piedmont people in order for him to regain the biggest investment anyone's ever made in a company in the history of commercial aviation."

Early Snow Hits Piedmont

LEXINGTON

By PANDORA PASSIN
Staff Reporter

It appears Mother Nature hasn't been able to make up her mind lately.

Within a span of 24 hours, people in Davidson County went from wearing rain gear to short-sleeved shirts and sunglasses, and finally this morning to boots, sweaters and coats.

The biggest shock came to many when they saw their cars covered with about an inch of snow early today, a drastic contrast to rather balmy weather conditions for several hours Tuesday.

This is the earliest snow on record for the Lexington area, said Lieut. Bobby Gage at Lexington Fire Station No. 3 on Biesecker Road. The fire station has been keeping weather records from National Weather Service for Lexington since the early part of this century, Gage said.

Tuesday morning started out warm with heavy rains. By midday it was sunny, with temperatures reaching to 75 degrees. There was a severe decrease in temperature in the late afternoon, and by evening it was in the 40's, accompanied by heavy winds. Thunderstorms and lightning caused some power outages in the city Tuesday night.

About 1½ inches of rain fell during the 12-hour period yesterday between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M.

Snow also has been falling along the East Coast today. This morning there were two inches of snow in Washington, one in Baltimore, and nine inches of snow

Waste Plant Could Impact Severely On Lake

LEXINGTON

By ALICE GARWOOD
Staff Reporter

When members of the North Carolina Hazardous Waste Treatment Commission came to Lexington last week, they heard plenty of reasons why a hazardous waste treatment plant should not be built on a proposed site near High Rock Lake.

Quite a few people who addressed the commission talked about the adverse impact a treatment facility would have on High Rock Lake, a recreational lake used by people throughout this area for fishing, boating, water skiing and other activities.

Seven of the nine members of the commission attended the Oct. 26 public meeting at Lexington Senior High School.

During the four-hour long meeting, commission members heard from such people as Neal Conner, chairman of the High Rock Lake Study Committee, who told them about the many groups and organizations that use the lake recreationally.

Conner also told them of the more than 250,000 annual visitations to the lake, which he noted is the third largest recreational lake in the state.

And he said that the Yadkin River Basin and High Rock Lake have a "rich historical and environmental heritage." Conner said that Daniel Boone's family once lived along the upper regions of the lake and that bald eagles have been seen on the lake.

Members of the commission also heard from Richard Baxley, director of the Davidson County Health Department, who said that because High Rock Lake is a reservoir, its water velocity flow is "extremely low." He said the low water flow results in incomplete mixing of any pollutant put in the water.

Two sites remain on the commission's list of potential locations for the treatment plant: a 245-acre tract off Clark Road in Linwood, near High Rock Lake, and 264 acres of property in Row-

Mr. Williamson,

We the Senior class would like to thank you for your patience, understanding, and time spent with us. Your friendship and dedication through the years means more than we can say. To you we leave our love and memories of our Senior year.

Thank You,
The Class of 1988

Mary,

It's hard to believe my "little sis" is graduating! Seems just yesterday you were into mine and momma's jewelry, shoes or anything you could and playing house; or else you were wanting to do and go everywhere I did (boy, did I ever get mad). I remember "my cow" was your favorite phrase to everything but now it's "fine, f-i-n-e". But through the years we both have learned a lot and learning more every day. I've learned that I have a wonderful, loving, caring sister that I wouldn't trade for anything. Well, CONGRATULATIONS and Best Wishes, I love you very much.

Love,
Your Sis, Tina.

Whiny,

You're still saying the same old thing, "Don't pick on me or I'll tell mama." I guess I'm to Congratulate you on a job well done but I shouldn't since I did half of your homework (HA) but I will. WAY TO GO! Best of luck in the future.

Love, David

"Monkey", "Mouse",

Just a couple of your nicknames that have been attached to you during your few years but no matter what you are called you are still our baby girl and we love you very much.

You are the girl that "would rather fight than switch" for Coke, that loves "bad" old cars and the "UNC Tarheels" and had a seventeenth birthday present that went crash! bang! (Oh, no! My car!)

We will always remember the good and the bad things you have done but just like our Heavenly Father who doesn't turn his back on us when we fall (because no one is perfect) we will not turn our back on you.

Congratulations, on a job well done in sports despite your "pint size". Also remember in K-4 how far away graduation seemed, but now you have finally made it! We are proud of you.

Best wishes and God bless you always as you begin another phase of life. Our desire is that you will serve the Lord and live for Him.

Proverbs 3:5-6

Love Always,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations and Best Wishes!

Love, Grandma Huffman, Grandma and Grandpa James

Daughter
Sometimes you were an angel,
Sometimes a little stinker
There were times when you were quiet,
And times when you were loud,
But anytime and all the time,
You've always made us proud!

Love you,
Dad, Mom, and Tim

Sharon,

Thank you for the joy that you have brought into our lives. We are so proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Richard,
Congratulations! We are very proud of you. We love you! God bless you!

Mom and Daddy

Darrell

Congratulations and best wishes as you graduate! I am very proud of you.

Love,
Mom

Kim,

God gave you to us and we have always been thankful.

In the summer of 1985 you said it was God's will that you attend a Christian school. Graduation is another step forward in your life. We pray your next steps will also be in God's will. Congratulations!

Love Always,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations on a job well done. I love you,

Mom

Ginger,

How proud can one be of a daughter, to see you grow from a tiny child to a mature young woman, and never a disappointment on your part, only a few heartaches along the way, where God worked in our hearts to draw us to Himself. How proud can we be of you with all your accomplishments, all your achievements, from tiny step to stepping out into your own life. You have never taken your eyes off the Lord and His leading for your life. You have shown us what living and serving the Lord is all about and for that we are more proud of you than we or anyone could ever pen or say.

Love Mom and Dad

Anita,

When you were born on April 1, we gave you back to the Lord to do His will. So use your talents for the Lord and stay as sweet as you are now. We are proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Angela,

Congratulations, now that you are seventeen and 88 is the big year for Graduation. We love you very much.

Mom and Dad

Keith,

You have brought joy and happiness to our lives. We want to "thank you" for being the kind of son parents could be proud of. We were proud parents when the Lord blessed us with your birth 18 years ago and we're still proud parents today as you continue to step forward into adulthood.

Keith, the future is unknown to us, but as long as you keep your eyes upon the Lord you have the promise of a glorious eternity.

Love,
Mom and Dad
